

What do Rostrum and Rotary Clubs have in common you might ask.

Well, there is plenty of common ground. They are all not-for-profit based clubs, driven primarily by a strong volunteering ethos. Rostrum benefits a wide range of people and Rotary Club members, in particular, can gain valuable skills from Rostrum involvement.

Within the Rotary Club community, the need for effective presentations and articulate addresses is paramount. Rostrum provides the opportunity to build confidence through practicing the delivery of presentations and speeches and participating in a range of meeting management activities.

Since its establishment, Rostrum in South Australia has grown. It currently has nearly 200 members and 15 Clubs located across the metropolitan area of Adelaide. These Clubs meet at different times, on different days, and are open to all who wish to learn how to communicate more effectively, build confidence, meet new people, and have great fun in the process.

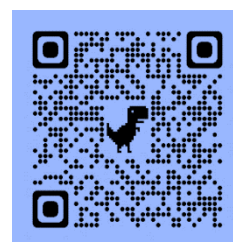

Rostrum strives for a balance between its long history and tradition and a desire to move with the times. 100 years of history and experience complements an organisation that embraces modern forms of presentation delivery. Ranging from face-to-face speeches, electronic PowerPoint presentations, hybrid Zoom meeting involving combinations of 'face-to-face' and on-line participants, ensures Rostrum maintains contemporary practice. It is an ideal learning environment for a wide range of people including Rotary Club members, employees, students, community group members, sporting club members and many others.

Rostrum's core learning model is based on the diversity of its membership. Supported by positive Rostrum accredited coaching and mentoring, Rostrum Club members benefit from watching presentations given by a range of people – experienced, inexperienced and everyone inbetween.

For over ninety years, Australian Rostrum members have made invaluable contributions to every facet of Australian society. Rostrum serves as a catalyst, helping individuals from all walks of life to discover their voice, share their ideas, and leave an indelible mark on their communities.

Rostrum, with its unwavering commitment to empowering individuals through effective communication, stands as a beacon of inspiration within the not-for-profit landscape. By working collaboratively with many organisations, including Rotary, Rostrum creates a powerful synergy that nurtures personal growth, fosters connection, and enriches the lives of countless individuals. This collaboration, can shape a future where confident, articulate voices resound, leaving an enduring impact on society. Rostrum does indeed help people to 'find their voice'
