Your host for the evening will be the newest member of the eClub Akil Halai

Having massive experiences and involvement in logistics, operations, guiding and management for over 15 years in Tanzania, creating luxury holidays and experiences for many people around the world – Akil is your ticket to a memorable and authentic safari to Africa and beyond. Having travelled extensively around the world in pursuit of birds, exciting cultures and yummy food, he has certainly ‘walked the talk’.

‘It took him a couple of months and many a box of chocolates to convince his mother that it was the right choice. It was the only choice.’

Having a degree in computer science and engineering was not going to be enough to put Akil behind a desk and a computer. The pursuit of outdoors and adventures was always part of his life from a very young age. Born and brought up in the shadows of Mt. Meru in the lush little town of Arusha (the tourism hub of Tanzania, East Africa) gave him enough opportunities to go on birding trips, safaris, mountain climbing and develop his passion for nature and wildlife.

I currently live in the beautiful state of South Australia with my wife and two sons. Adelaide is a stunning place to bring up a family and go on picturesque hikes. I cannot wait to pick up my camera, explore a new place and photograph the beautiful parrots and abundant fauna this place has to offer whenever I get the opportunity.

Now, isn't life an adventure?
